A U S T R A L I A

Roband Australia is a leading manufacturer and supplier of food service equipment.

For over 50 years and through several generations of experience, this Australian family owned operation has successfully combined manufacturing and market experience to provide consumers with the highly regarded, quality products it markets today. The company's flagship brand, Roband, boasts one of the most comprehensive ranges of counter-line food service equipment. Proudly Australian made, Roband distributes an impressive collection of modern, stylish and functional food service equipment which includes milkshake mixers, contact grills, toasters, food bars (hot or cold), pie and food warmers, griddle hotplates and heat lamps.

Roband Australia also manufactures the Austheat range of quality floor model foodservice equipment. The latest range comprises freestanding electric deep fryers and toaster / hotplates, which are ideal for takeaway shops or where high-speed production of hamburgers or fried food, such as fish and chips, is required.

All Roband and Austheat products are manufactured in the company's production plant located in the Sydney northern beaches suburb of Cromer. Representing over 55 years of engineering excellence, Roband Australia is at the forefront of innovation and development, committed to bringing the very latest in technology and design. Its advanced manufacturing facility also offers the service of full design and manufacturing of specialised or customised products.

Roband Australia also sources and markets a complementary range of food service equipment, specifically selected to suit the Australian market. Vitamix blenders from the USA is the undisputed global leader in food and beverage blending technology. Noaw food slicers and Ceado commercial juicers from Italy are renowned throughout Europe for their performance and safety features. Robalec and Robatherm electrical equipment (e.g. rice cookers, hot water urns) complements Roband's counter-line equipment range. Forje stainless steel cookware, Robinox commercial kitchenware / tableware, combined with Ryno modular stainless steel benching act as a perfect package to equip any commercial food operations.

Warehousing for Roband Australia's extensive product portfolio is based at its head office, in Cromer. The products are sold through an extensive dealership network throughout Australia and are also exported to many countries throughout the world. The company has also proudly secured numerous supply arrangements for its products to high profile food service franchise operators, providing testament to the product quality and service support offered by Roband Australia.

With over half a century of excellence, Roband Australia proudly stands as an icon of the Australian food service industry, synonymous with superior quality, ongoing reliability and outstanding performance. With its expansive product portfolio, customers can be confident of finding a product to suit their needs. From cafés, restaurants, franchise and independently owned food service outlets, 5 star hotels, airlines and institutions, a 'Roband' product is usually not far away.
